See 3 Slam Rules for Sportsmanship

1. Show respect for your opponents. Remember the Golden Rule: Treat your opponent the way you would want them to treat you.
2. Show respect for the monitors. Court monitors are trained and expected to be impartial guides and arbitrators of See 3 Slam games. Sportsmanship requires the willingness to accept and abide by the decisions of the monitors. Remember, monitors are volunteers; without them, there would be no See 3 Slam.
3. Know, understand, and appreciate the rules of See 3 Slam. A familiarity with the rules of See 3 Slam and the recognition of their necessity for a fair contest is essential. Good sportsmanship suggests the importance of conforming to the spirit as well as the letter of the rules. (Please note that See 3 Slam rules allow for technical fouls or disqualification for severe cases of unsportsmanlike behavior.)
4. Keep your cool! Sportsmanship requires the discipline to maintain your perspective no matter what happens in a game, whether you're playing or watching.
5. Cheer for your team and the other team! Applause for a good performance of an opponent is a demonstration of generosity and goodwill.

See 3 Slam requires that players and fans refrain from:

1. Yelling during the opponent's free-throw attempts, or anytime in a disrespectful manner, or to distract your opponents.
2. Booing, heckling or antagonizing a monitor, coach, or player.
3. Blaming the loss of a game on the monitors or coaches.
4. Using profanity or displaying anger that draws attention away from the game.

Technical, flagrant and intentional fouls against you, your teammates, or fans will result in the opposing team receiving one-point and possession of the ball.

Thank you for setting a good example of sportsmanship!
